SWEDEN SHIPS OUT GERMANS; SUICIDE TRIED

INTERNEES FIGHT EXTRADITION TO SOVIET AREA

BY ROBERT N. STURDEVANT

Stockholm, Nov. 30 (AP)—About 600 German military internees, including 100 who attempted suicide, were hospitalized tonight after a day of violence as the Swedish government started extradition of 2,700 former Wehrmacht soldiers to Soviet territory.

Swedish authorities said that two succeeded in taking their own lives in wild struggles with Swedish military forces and police who had the task of transporting the internees to a waiting Russian ship at Trelleborg. Many attempted self-suicide.

About 500 were hospitalized because of weakness from a hunger strike begun a week ago in protest against an order turning them over to the Russians.

Swedish officials announced that the Russians had turned down a request that all 2,700 be sent to Luebeck, in the British zone. Instead, only a few who fled to Sweden before May 1, 1945, will be sent to the western occupied area, with the remainder going to the Soviet zone where they had served as soldiers.

This morning the Germans were granted 10 minutes to decide whether they would move off voluntarily or by force as Swedish units surrounded the camps.

Not Guilty Motion Denied At Criminal Trial Of Yamashita

Manila, Saturday, Dec. 1 (AP)—The military commission trying Lt. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita on war crimes charges today rejected a "not guilty" motion which defense counsel asked on concluding his case. The trial has been in progress since Oct. 29.

Yamashita yesterday testified in a 45-minute guttural speech he neither ordered nor condoned Japanese atrocities in the Philippines and asserted he would punish the perpetrators now if he had the power.

Col. Harry E. Clarke, chief defense counsel, questioned the witness briefly and drew out a story of how Yamashita saved the life of an American during the final stage of the battle of Luzon.

Earlier Yamashita denied, under persistent cross examination, that he had ever said he could not declare Manila an open city because such a move would dishonor Japanese arms. He specifically denied having said it to Jose Laurel, puppet president of the Philippines.

One thing Yamashita did not deny was that, although he knew few ships from the Philippines got through the American sea and air blockade, he did nothing to halt the shipment of American prisoners of war to Japan in December, 1944.

New York Gamblers Jittery, Use Script

New York, Nov. 30 (AP)—"Big-time gamblers are so jittery about hold-ups that they have taken to the use of script in denominations of $500, $1,000, and $5,000 for pay-offs, police reported today.

An investigation, police said, revealed the existence of "script notes" to be redeemed for currency by a gambling syndicate which was to have operated in Washington, D. C., Florida winter resorts, and in Albany, Saratoga and Lake George, N. Y.

Hurley Takes On All Comers To Tell About U. S. Policies In China

BY WILLIAM R. SPEAR

Washington, Nov. 30 (AP)—Major General Patrick J. Hurley readily agreed to take on all comers today as three congressional committees invited him to speak.

The senate foreign relations committee, which put in its bid first, appeared to have the inside track. Chairman Connally (D-Tex.) called a hearing for Wednesday and Hurley told reporters he preferred to testify there first—but he sought a public and not a private session, as Connally had planned.

Two house committees—on military affairs and un-American activities—also want to hear more about the charges Hurley made against certain career diplomats and the state department in a press release Tuesday which announced his resignation as ambassador to China.

Hurley asserted that a "considerable section of our state department is endeavoring to support Communism generally as well as specifically in China."

The Hurley statement conti to bring repercussions from sides of the capital. One of today was the first criticism yet uttered there of President Truman's appointment of General George C. Marshall to succeed Hurley in China.

Rep. Patterson (D-Calif.) said it was a "poor appointment," because Marshall "doesn't know anything about China" and "because he is a soldier."

Rep. Delacy (D-Wash.) said he intends to ask the state department for its translation of a book by Chiang Kai-shek called "China's Destiny." He added that it is reputed to be the "Mein Kampf of China" and that Chinese censorship has prevented its export.

The senate, too, heard fresh discussion of American policy in the Far East. Senator Willis (R-Ind.) called in a speech for "some explaining and housecleaning" by the state department. He declared the department should explain why American troops "are being kept in China" and why materials "are being flown by American pilots to supply the nationalist government and why are American lives being sacrificed in this endeavor."

Gale Strikes In Northeast; Death Toll 32

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A pre-winter gale, accompanied by winds reaching hurricane speed, moved slowly out to sea yesterday after lashing northeastern states with rain, sleet and snow for two days and causing the death of at least 32 persons.

The New England coast and up state New York were hit hardest by the north-easter, which upset transportation and communication facilities and caused considerable property damage.

Seventeen persons were reported dead in New York, 11 in New England and four in New Jersey.

MISSING YOUTH LODGED IN CELL

Malcolm McLeod, Two Girls Brought Back From $20,000 Trip

Detroit, Nov. 30 (AP)—Eighteen-year-old Malcolm McLeod was lodged in a police cell here tonight as authorities planned to question him and two coeds about their three-day spree which was financed by part of the more than $20,000 McLeod took from his father's home.

Sgt. Jesse Wilson, of the special investigations squad, filed a formal charge of investigation of grand larceny against the youth, but police indicated it would not be pressed unless his father, former Congressman Clarence J. McLeod, requested it.

The two girls—Betty Ann Mackey, 21, and Kathleen Conriddle, 19—were detained at police headquarters following their arrival from Chicago this afternoon, but no charges were placed against them. Authorities said they probably would be released in custody of their parents.

Malcolm, whose disappearance Nov. 22 first led investigators to advance a kidnapping theory, was definitely camera shy as he stepped from the train in company with two Detroit police officers. They brought him and the girls back from Columbus, Georgia, where the three were taken into custody Sunday night while enroute to Florida.

Postwar Housing Program Started At Michigan State

BY D. HAROLD OLIVER

East Lansing, Nov. 30 (AP)—Michigan State College's $6,000,000 post-war housing construction plan will get under way immediately with the construction of one dormitory for women, two dormitories for men and 104 apartment units for married students.

Karl H. Mc Donel, secretary of the state board of agriculture, announced today.

Despite increasing costs and shortages of labor for construction the board approved the three projects in view of the serious housing shortage caused by the rapidly increasing enrollment particularly of veterans, Mc Donel said.

He said the cost of the men's dormitories was estimated at $1,500,000 while the women's dormitory would cost approximately $800,000 and the married students housing unit about $600,000.

Two additional women's dormitories, a major addition to the union building and a food storage building are also included in the building project. All the buildings are self liquidating.

Jangle Ends Truman's Labor Peace Meeting

BY WILLIAM NEEDHAM

Washington, Nov. 30 (AP)—President Truman's labor-management conference adjourned at 6:25 p. m. (EST) tonight without setting the hoped-for machinery to handle postwar labor disputes.

The conferees were in complete disagreement on such major issues as wages and collective bargaining, but leaders asserted the meeting attained "substantial advances toward industrial peace."

The closing session of the 25-day meeting called by Mr. Truman to devise ways and means of curbing industrial strife, flared in open attacks on management by ranking labor leaders and a vigorous exchange between the heads of the rival CIO and AFL unions.

Little business was transacted today, other than the defeat, by voice vote, of each proposal submitted by either labor or management. Each side voted as a bloc.

STRIKE-BOUND GM WANTS TO SUPPLY PARTS

LIFTING OF TIEUP TO HELP OTHER PLANTS ASKED

Detroit, Nov. 30 (AP)—The strike-idle General Motors Corp. proposed to the CIO's United Auto Workers tonight that work in GM's parts and accessories division be resumed for the benefit of other automobile manufacturers.

The proposal was made in a letter from President C. E. Wilson, of General Motors, to President R. J. Thomas, of the striking union which has tied up GM production since Nov. 21 in a strike affecting 225,000 workers.

Wilson said the proposal, for which he suggested "acceptance by your union," was made with the thought of restoring the flow of auto parts and accessories from GM's factories for the other re-converting plants of the industry.

The union reply awaited.

The union was notified informally of General Motors' proposal but made no comment. A spokesman at UAW-CIO headquarters said a reply probably would not be forthcoming before tomorrow.

"We are willing," Wilson said, "to ship materials which are ready for shipment to other manufacturers. We also are willing and expect to operate all of our parts and accessories divisions during the period of this strike exclusively on outside work—that is, on material required by manufacturers other than General Motors car, truck and body divisions."

If the union accepts, Wilson said, men would be called back to work with the understanding that no work would be done except for outside manufacturers.

When the General Motors strike began, industry authority expressed fear that it might force all other automobile manufacturers except the Ford Motor company to quit production for lack of parts from General Motors.

Dispute Still Pending

Tonight's offer from General Motors came shortly after the corporation and the UAW-CIO had failed to reach an agreement in a dispute over picketing of GM's plants. General Motors charged the union with "illegal picketing."

On an agreement in that dispute there had hung a possible chance for reopening of negotiations between the corporation and the union.

In announcing that today's conference had failed Vice President Harry W. Anderson, of General Motors indicated the corporation would have made a formal overture to the union had an agreement been reached on picketing.

"When that time (an agreement) comes," Anderson said, "we are going to ask the union to take a position on our letter."

This was the General Motors' letter in which the corporation demanded that the UAW-CIO reduce from its demand for a wage rate increase of 30 per cent within the present price structure of GM products.

Vice President Walter P. Reuther, of the union, said tonight against the picketing conference that the UAW-CIO "may be required to take steps to further paralyze General Motors."

No Modification Yet

Reuther termed the consultation with Anderson over picketing "merely a side issue" and further told reporters that the matter had

The highlight of the session was a dispute over wage resolutions carried to the floor by CIO President Philip Murray.

Murray accused industry of reducing the earnings of labor by $10.75 a week since V-E Day, and declared that collective bargaining throughout the country had broken down because management had failed to "accept its responsibility."

He named the General Motors Corp. and the U. S. Steel Corp. specifically as examples of industries which were refusing to bargain collectively with their workers.

Green, after a hastily-called caucus with AFL delegates, John L. Lewis, head of the United Mine Workers, and representatives of the railroad brotherhoods, declared Murray had changed his position as to injecting wage questions into the conference.

HAWAII ATTACK 'LIKELY' IN 1941

Army Must Have Been On Alert At Pearl Harbor Gen. Says

BY WILLIAM T. PEACOCK

Washington, Nov. 30 (AP)—Maj. Gen. Sherman Miles said today the army high command always had considered attacks on Hawaii and the Panama canal about "equally likely" in case of war with Japan.

That was so "inherent in the situation," he declared, that he had never thought for a moment before Dec. 7, 1941, that Pearl Harbor's defenders were not fully on the alert.

Miles acknowledged before the Senate-House investigating committee, however, that Hawaii was not mentioned in any of the evaluations and forecasts he prepared as head of military intelligence.

Miles said there were "very cogent reasons" why the Japanese would want to occupy the Hawaiian islands, one being that the United States would have to recapture them before undertaking any major Pacific offensive.

Miles was emphatic that there was no reason why he should believe the army in Hawaii was not alert against any type of attack.

Two messages of Nov. 27 from Washington to Hawaii advised that negotiations with Japan appeared ended and that hostile action might ensue.

Miles, who was assistant chief of staff for military intelligence, also told the committee: the army general staff "very much feared" an attack might come at 1 p. m. Dec. 7—the hour when Japanese peace negotiators delivered their note to the state department—but had no information where the attack might be made.

Abuse Of Priorities
To Buy New Cars
Is Banned By Fords

Detroit, Nov. 30 (AP)—Reporting that abuse of informal "priority systems" for new car sales has reached serious proportions, J. R. Davis, of the Ford Motor Company, warned his dealers today against any participation in what he called a "gray market."

Davis, Ford director of sales and advertising, said the abuses ranged from name-switching on the unofficial priority lists to payment of bonuses for transfer of cars after they leave dealers' hands.

The company has recommended that dealers permit no name substitutions on their lists and adhere to a first come, first served principle; that upwards of 25 per cent of all new cars be allocated to veterans, and that the now-abolished OPA priority lists be used to determine all "borderline" applications.

Army Will Release
15,000 Physicians
And 5,000 Dentists

Washington, Nov. 30 (AP)—The war department announced today modification of the discharge requirements for doctors and dentists which it said would release an additional 15,000 physicians and 5,000 dentists.

The critical score for doctors and dentists was reduced from 80 to 70, effective immediately. The 70 score for doctors is 3 points below the new score for officers in other branches of the army which becomes effective tomorrow.

The army also amended the time factor for computing eligibility. Instead of service prior to Pearl Harbor, medical personnel will now be eligible for release after 42 months of honorable service. Any doctor or dentist who is 48 years of age is eligible for release.

Boys School Condemned In State Survey

Lansing, Nov. 30 (AP)—A wholesale physical and administrative reorganization of the troubled Boys Vocation School was recommended today in reports being compiled of a survey of the institution by state agencies.

The survey, being drawn together by the State Civil Service Commission for Governor Kelly and the State Juvenile Institute Commission, condemned the institution as being "little better than a penitentiary, holding boys without adequate training in a drab, repressive atmosphere not conducive to improving their citizenship or character."

Proposals to move the present 90-year-old institution to about four rural locations where boys of varying character could be segregated previously were voiced by experts studying the school.

The surveys declared that a full-time psychiatrist with adequate assistance should be employed, that education should be geared to the mental capacities of the inmates, that vocational training be emphasized more and that recreation and "home" life be substantially improved.

No Home Atmosphere

Cottages, or dormitories, in which upwards of approximately 500 boys live, were described as drab and dreary, with no home atmosphere and where repression and punishment appeared to be the major concerns of the staff.

At least one-third of the inmates now are receiving no education, the survey said, while 30 per cent of the boys have speech defects and 50 per cent retarded in reading, with little use being made of modern teaching methods to overcome those handicaps.

The surveyors reported that little use is being made of the school's excellent gymnasium and swimming pool and that little physical education is given the boys despite good facilities.

The school staff was declared to be more interested in punishment and restraint than in educating and encouraging the boys.

One report asserted that discrimination in punishment and preference was found in the case of negro boys, and urged the employment of a negro social worker.

Bombs Dropped
ON INDONESIANS

British Planes Silence
Artillery Shelling
In Central Java

BY VERN HAUGLAND

Batavia, Java, Nov. 30 (AP)—Ten British planes struck with rockets and bombs today to silence Indonesian artillery which shelled interment camps and British positions at Ambarawa in central Java, and Indian troops opened a land attack.

Immediately after the air assault, British Indian troops began a ground offensive which was reported proceeding well at the outset.

Semarang was reported quiet, and Indian troops occupied Oene-garan, troublesome village between Semarang and Ambarawa where Indonesians had massed in sizeable force last week.

Fighting flared again yesterday in Bandoeng, summer capital of Java 75 miles southeast of Batavia, and a British statement said the Dutch and Indonesians exchanged shots on Juliana boulevard.

Meanwhile acting Governor General Hubertus Van Mook of the Netherlands East Indies reiterated at a news conference that "the door to discussion" with the Indonesians "is still wide open."

He said there were "some signs" of a decrease in tension and terrorism, and that because of this renewed contact with the Indonesian leaders might become possible.

Union Claims Week
Montgomery Wards
Walkout Successful

Chicago, Nov. 30 (AP)—A week-long demonstration walkout against Montgomery Ward and company units in 20 cities will end "as scheduled" tomorrow night, the union involved in the walkout said tonight.

In a statement made in New York and issued in Chicago, Samuel Wolchok, international president of the CIO United Retail, Wholesale and Department Store Employees Union, declared, "The work stoppage carried on in 20 cities stretching from the east coast to Denver, Colo., has been eminently successful."

AMNESIA WAS FAKED, CRIME TRIAL IS TOLD

HITLER'S FORMER AIDE FOOLS HIS OWN ATTORNEY

BY WES GALLAGHER

Nuernberg, Nov. 29 (AP)—Rudolf Hess sardonically told the international military tribunal today that he had faked amnesia, fooling Allied medical experts and his own attorney, but that now he was prepared to stand trial and "bear full responsibility for anything I have done."

The gaunt, crafty former deputy to Adolf Hitler leaped to his feet and read a short, astonishing speech into a microphone when British Lord Justice Geoffrey Lawrence declared, at a special hearing on Hess' sanity, that the tribunal would like to hear from the defendant himself.

Keitel Accused

Hess told the court "My memory is again in order," and that he simulated amnesia for "tactical" reasons. Afterward he remarked that "I feel unburdened. I feel better." His German attorney was flabbergasted; a British attorney said Hess either "is off his rocker, or is completely recovered."

The court adjourned without announcing any decision, but the line of questioning by Lawrence and other justices indicated they were inclined to believe Hess is in condition to be tried.

Hess' statement followed a regular court session at which a German court intelligence chief accused Field Marshal Gen. Wilhelm Keitel, Hitler's fashion plate chief of the German supreme command, with being the instigator of a plot to assassinate French military leaders, Gen. Maxime Weygand and Gen. Henri Giraud.

Maj. Gen. Erwin Lahusen, first witness to testify since the opening of the trials, linked Keitel and the entire German army general staff with wholesale killings of Russian prisoners of war and mass starvation of thousands of others.

Killings Admitted

Hess' statement overshadowed a color-packed day in which the testimony of Gen. Lahusen for the first time linked the German general staff with atrocities on the eastern front.

Lahusen, resembling the Hollywood version of a German staff officer minus the monocle, declared a small group of officers led by Admiral Wilhelm Canaris, German secret intelligence chief, had tried to check the brutalities of Hitler and his henchmen. Canaris was executed for his part in the Hitler bomb plot of July, 1944.

Lahusen stressed that a small group of German army officers had secretly opposed Hitler. But under repeated questioning by the prosecutors and the judges—particularly the Russian Judge Maj. Gen. I. T. Nikitchenko—he admitted that the German high command "must have known of the treatment of prisoners."

The witness said that the actual systematic killing of prisoners because of their intelligence or on racial grounds had been done by Himmler's police, the SS (elite guard), and the SD (security police).

Nationalized Banks Proposed In France

By ROBERT C. WILSON

Paris, Nov. 30 (AP)—Gen. De Gaulle's coalition government proposed to the constituent assembly today nationalization of the Bank of France and four other major banks with total capital of 2,675,000,000 francs ($53,500,000).

It was the first measure given the assembly in a program which also contemplates nationalization of insurance and electrical utilities, reform of government administration, judiciary and civil service, and "modernization" of mining, industry and agriculture.

Under the proposal, which will be debated for the first time on Sunday, all shares of the Bank of France, held by 47,000 shareholders, would be taken over by the state as of January 1, 1946.

A commission would be created to decide what indemnity should be given the shareholders, who would be reimbursed with negotiable bonds amortized for a period of 50 years or more. Their value would be fixed by the commission, with the maximum interest rate six per cent.

Lindbergh Almost Shot Down During Mission Over Truk

North Hollywood, Calif., Nov. 30 (AP)—Charles A. Lindbergh, who was stationed on Biak as a technician, narrowly escaped being shot down when he accompanied a fighter mission over Truk, Capt. Robert DeHaven, 23, disclosed today.

Dr. DeHaven said Lindbergh was with three fliers of the 475th Fighter Group when:

"They encountered Zeros and Lindbergh's guns jammed. Colonel (Charles A.) MacDonald shot down a Nip who was drawing a bead on Lindbergh's tail. It was after this that Gen. George C. Kenney, Far Eastern Air Forces commander, ordered that Lindbergh not be permitted to fly combat missions."

DeHaven described the incident as occurring a few days after a flight over Halmahera, "during which Lindbergh shot down a Nip." He identified Colonel MacDonald as commanding officer of the 475th.

Considerable difficulty has been experienced in starting airplane engines of 500 horsepower and over at sub-zero temperatures. In such cases, transport operators usually heat the outside of the engine and the oil in the crankcase. They circulate a very light oil, contained in a separate tank, through the engine before shutting it off.

"nothing to do" with settling of the strike.

A second conference was called for next Wednesday—the day after Anderson has conferred with a federal conciliator in Washington over the strike.

Reuther denied the corporation charge of illegal picketing which GM said had figured in the idleness of 50,000 non-strikers, including officer workers and supervisory employees.

Union heads declined to disclose significance behind their request of the Ford Motor company today to delay until Monday further consideration of their 30 per cent wage boost demand on that company.

Richard Leonard, director of the UAW-CIO Ford department, said an "important development" had influenced the union to ask the delay. He refused to elaborate, asserting "We can't reveal it, even off the record."

Chrysler Corp. announced extension of its contract with the UAW-CIO to midnight Dec. 4 from its expiration time of midnight tonight.

The union and Chrysler were in negotiation today and the session was recessed until Dec. 4. The UAW-CIO also has made its 30 per cent demand on Chrysler.

Whipped Fala Still Tops At Hyde Park; Bull Mastiff Killed

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 30 (AP)—The late President Roosevelt's beloved Scottie, Fala, although whipped in a tangle with Elliott Roosevelt's bull mastiff, Blaze, still is top dog at the family's Hyde Park estate.

Little Fala's opponent, the 135-pound Blaze, who broke into the news last January when his high priority for transcontinental travel "bumped off" three servicemen from an army transport plane, was killed by a veterinarian.

Blaze's head was sent to the state health department for tests for rabies, which was found not present, the department said today.

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, widow of the late president, had no comment on a report that she ordered Blaze destroyed after the dog fight Saturday. While visiting the Roosevelt estate, Fala encountered Blaze on a lawn. They fought. Blaze was uninjured. Fala was sent to a dog hospital.

Expansion of aviation education in schools and the resumption of government assisted civil flight training.

Simplification of federal regulations governing private flying.

The 2,900 federal-aid airports would be, he explained, those which would have sufficient direct national importance to be included in an airport system comparable to the federal-aid highway system. But ultimately, he added, "thousands of additional landing areas which will constitute the secondary or dirt-road system" will be needed to fill out "our pattern of ground facilities for civil aviation."

Predict 400,000 Private Airplanes In U. S.
By 1955

New York—There are 34,000 personal-type aircraft registered in the United States today, but by 1955 there will be 400,000 if manufacturers get busy on the engineering side and turn out better and easier-to-fly aircraft, declared William A. M. Burden, Assistant Secretary of Commerce, here tonight at the meeting of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers.

"He urged the aircraft industry to produce a minimum number of old-type planes to satisfy essential demand and to keep your organization intact, while moving full speed ahead to develop an improved airplane."

To foster private flying, the Civil Aeronautics Administration of the Department of Commerce is advancing a four-point program he said. It includes:

Expansion of our airport system by the construction with federal aid of some 2,900 airports suitable for private flyers.

Encouragement of the design of advanced types of personal aircraft by government-sponsored competitions or development contracts.

Expansion of aviation education in schools and the resumption of government assisted civil flight training.

Simplification of federal regulations governing private flying.

The 2,900 federal-aid airports would be, he explained, those which would have sufficient direct national importance to be included in an airport system comparable to the federal-aid highway system. But ultimately, he added, "thousands of additional landing areas which will constitute the secondary or dirt-road system" will be needed to fill out "our pattern of ground facilities for civil aviation."

Town Hall Ticket Selling Campaign Will Get Under Way Monday

FIVE NUMBERS TO BE OFFERED

Paul Robeson And Trapp Family To Appear In Concerts

The ticket selling campaign for the Escanaba Town Hall series, which this season will consist of five outstanding numbers, will get under way here on Monday. First number on the series will be presented in mid-January.

Interested persons, if not contacted by the canvassing committee, may obtain tickets by sending their checks to Harry J. Gruber, Escanaba, treasurer of Town Hall.

The five numbers on the series are: Paul Robeson, noted Negro singer; the Trapp Family Singers, nationally known vocal group; Iva Kitchell, dance humorist; the Lyon Trio and the Orpheus Choral club.

Won Fame As Actor
Paul Robeson has won distinction in four fields—singing, acting, scholastics and athletics. At Rutgers university he won his R in four major sports, football, baseball, track and basketball, and was all-American end for two years. As a scholar, he won a Phi Beta Kappa key in his junior year.

As an actor, he appeared in "Emperor Jones," "All God's Chillun," "Black Boy," "Porgy," "Show Boat," and "The Hairy Ape." In the spring of 1930, he appeared in London in a production of Shakespeare's "Othello" and toured the American continent in the same play last season.

Robeson gave his first song recital in 1925 in the Greenwich Village Theatre, accompanied by Lawrence Brown, Negro pianist, who is still his accompanist. Later concert triumphs were scored in the capitals of Europe, including command performances at St. James palace. Returning to America, he continued his success on the concert stage and in radio.

Trapps Are Popular
In five transcontinental tours, the Trapp Family Singers have completely captured the admiration and affection of American audiences, both for their flawless performances on the concert stage and for their lovable personal qualities as a story-book family come through. Their dramatic renunciation of their ancestral estates in defiance of the Nazi invaders, their brave adventures in transplanting themselves to the new country to which they have pledged allegiance, the happy life they now lead between professional engagements on their rolling Vermont farm—all have fired the imagination of listeners who instantly become friends, who return to listen again and again.

Dance Humorist Coming
Iva Kitchell, actress, dancer and humorist, made her first professional engagement with the Chicago Opera Ballet. Subsequently she toured with the Russian Ballet until her keen analysis of human frailties brought forth a series of laugh provoking dances which led to her own solo recitals. Her dance parodies were particularly popular in Europe and she has completed five transcontinental tours of this country.

The Lyon Trio is composed of Ruby Spencer Lyon, lovely singing star of great Schubert productions; Jennie Gaudio, talented violinist; and Magdalen Massman, accompanist and soloist of unusual brilliance.

Closing the series again will be the popular Orpheus Choral club, composed of about forty Delta county singers, directed by Paul Bowers, superintendent of the Rapid River public schools.

PAUL ROBESON COMING HERE—The return of Paul Robeson is the big news of the present music season in America, and Upper Peninsula music lovers will have an opportunity to hear the great American bass-baritone on the Town Hall series in Escanaba this coming season. COL. BARTELLA HAS FAST TRIP

Travels From Tokyo To San Francisco In Three Days

McCloskey General Hospital, Temple, Texas—Col. John M. Bartella, 32-year-old senior pilot of San Antonio, arrived at McCloskey General hospital yesterday after a record trip from Japan. He had breakfast in Tokyo on Saturday, Nov. 10, and lunch on in San Francisco the following Monday noon.

The young West Point graduate will receive treatment for an old injury suffered back in 1938 when he was forced to bail out after his plane had collided with another, while on a routine flight in the Philippines.

For the past 16 months he has been on the General Headquarters Staff as Operations officer in the Southwest Pacific theater.

"It was particularly interesting to note the metamorphosis of the Japanese peoples. My wife and I had visited Tokyo in August 1939 and found the Japs to be coldly polite but overbearing. Japanese officials demanded to know why we were there, how we were traveling, where we planned to stay and how long we intended to remain in the country. When I arrived in Tokyo last September everything had changed, they were a beaten nation, disgustingly servile," Col. Bartella declared.

Following his graduation from West Point Military Academy in 1936 as an Infantry second lieutenant, Bartella applied for transfer to the Air Corps and completed his training as a pursuit pilot in 1937 at Kelly Field. He was assigned to duty in the Philippines and sailed from the States on January 29, 1938. His tour of duty extended through February 1940, when he was ordered to report to Moffitt Field, California.

Two days before war was declared Bartella received a promotion to major and was assigned to the Fourth Fighter Command as A-3. In February he was promoted to lieutenant colonel and reported to the San Francisco Fighter Wing as executive officer in June 1943.

On January 29, 1944, exactly six years from the day he departed the states for foreign duty, Colonel Bartella took off from Mills Field for Gusap, New Guinea as commander of a fighter wing.

"They made me a colonel as a going away present," he laughed. Five months later Colonel Bartella was appointed G-3 for the GHQ and served as operations officer for 16 months in the Southwest Pacific theater.

"We moved into Japan on September 7 and I set up quarters at the Japanese Navy Officers Club in Tokyo on the 17. I was preparing to fly over Hiroshima and Nagasaki to view the destruction caused by our atomic bombs, when I was sent to the hospital with my old injury," he said, adding, "It's great to get back to the states and I'm looking forward to seeing some snow. I've been in warm climates ever since I left West Point."

The colonel's wife and two sons Jack 7 and Dick 3 reside at 1211 Rigby St., San Antonio. His parents Mr. and Mrs. John J. Bartella live in Escanaba, Mich.

TRAPP FAMILY SINGERS—The enchanting, artistic and unique Trapp Family Singers will appear on the Town Hall series at the Wm. W. Oliver auditorium in Escanaba this winter. On their programs, they present lovely old church music of Palestrina or Mozart, songs of Schubert or Brahms, enchanting madrigals and other gems of Elizabethan England, combined with folk songs of many lands, yodels and mountain calls. Picturesque in the colorful costumes of their native Tyrol, the Singers also flavor their programs with a group of rarely-heard instrumental music of the past performed on early block-flutes, viola da gamba and spinet. In between concert seasons, the family lives on a farm among the Vermont hills, where they prepare new programs under the direction of their leader, Dr. Franz Wasner.

FEW BUILDING PERMITS ISSUED

Total For November In City Is Less Than $10,000

Ten building permits issued during November call for new construction and alterations to private dwellings amounting to $8,675. The difficulty in obtaining still scarce building material and the fact that most property owners postpone building during the winter months probably accounts for the comparatively few permits requested.

Permits issued include the following:

Edward Cox, 501 South 10th street, garage, $500; Gust Peterson, 1425 Third avenue north, garage, $600; William Kuebler, 1701 Ninth avenue south, construction of an open porch, $100; E. E. Hogan, 1120 Eleventh avenue south, one story dwelling, $4,000; Mrs. Stanley Finlan, 221 North 12th street, basement, $400;

Town Hall Series

NEXT week, canvassers will be out to sell tickets for Town Hall, which will open its season of music and other entertainment at the Wm. W. Oliver auditorium in mid-January.

With Paul Robeson, one of America's greatest negro singers, the Trapp Family Singers, the Orpheus Choral club and other numbers on its program, Town Hall this season will offer the most expensive series in its history. It is meeting the demand of music lovers of this area for attractions that rate among the best in the country.

Town Hall patrons will note that this season's program does not have any lecture numbers. During the war, there was considerable interest locally in talks on national and international affairs, and Town Hall took advantage of this public interest to arouse support for its series.

However, it is now felt that just now there is more desire for fine music and other high grade entertainment features among a war-weary people.

Town Hall, being a non-profit organization, is able to offer this season's excellent program at prices that compare favorably with those that music lovers pay in Chicago, New York and other metropolitan centers.

Whether it will continue to present such programs in the future will depend upon the support received this season.

Safe Winter Driving

SLIPPERY pavements, poor visibility and other winter conditions will make the coming months dangerous ones for automobile drivers. Already, these traffic conditions have caused a number of bad accidents on Upper Peninsula highways, and there will be more of them unless motorists observe the common rules of safe winter driving.

The Safe Winter Driving League has outlined several tips to be followed in the operation of motor vehicles. Here they are:

When starting out, get the "feel" of the road by trying your brakes while driving slowly are near. On wet, snowy, or icy road surfaces reduce your speed so you could stop in time if faced with an emergency.

When you have to stop, apply your brakes lightly and intermittently. Jamming on your brakes may lock them and throw your car or truck into a dangerous skid.

Keep windshield and windows clear of snow and ice outside, and fog and frost inside.

Use tire chains on ice and snow.

Juvenile Delinquency

THE department of justice at Washington, where the rising curve of juvenile delinquency cases features the national crime chart, has decided to do something about this national disgrace. Accordingly, the attorney general has ordered establishment of a new bureau to study and handle this problem.

Repeatedly, J. Edgar Hoover of the FBI has sought in radio talks to parents and in articles printed in the press to awaken the country to the gravity of this situation in which the crime records of those under 21, and especially of those under 18, have been attaining appalling dimensions.

The problem is now national and needs national action, says a statement issued by the justice department. It assuredly does. But unless the responsibility of parents, and of local communities, is to be further diminished toward zero, this problem needs equally direct and intelligent handling at that end of our government which is opposite that of federal authority. The justice department has its task cut out for it. How many parents realize that they also have theirs?

Science Advances

RADAR, radio and television are about to have a profound effect upon our faculties for sight, hearing and physical association. As a result of an unparalleled rush of science into the daily walks of life, the blind will see, the deaf will hear, and in the sea even the fish will be unable to hide the secrets of their whereabouts.

All of this represents a great, beneficial dividend from the recent terror of the war and bears out the old saying about an "ill wind that blows no good." Some of these benefits are of a long-range nature, but there are others which are close to home and not very far in the offing.

Science promises wonderful things to a peacetime world.

Pullmans in Wartime

SINCE Pearl Harbor, 125 million persons have traveled in Pullman cars a total distance of 98 billion passenger miles. This includes some 33 million servicemen and women in organized movements who have traveled some 44 billion passenger miles, an average of 1,300 miles for each serviceman moved, or the equivalent of a 330-mile sleeping car ride for every man, woman and child in the country.

About 4,200 sleeping cars, more than three-fifths of the Pullman fleet, are available for exclusive military service. Pullman also operates more than 1,200 government-owned special troop sleepers.

The 1945 performance is at or near the all-time records of 1944, when 28.3 billion passenger miles of service were rolled up in Pullman cars, more than double the volume moved in the peak year of World War I. This is being accomplished with very little expansion of facilities.

Like the railroads, the Pullman company has done a good transportation job.

WHY MOVE OPA TO DETROIT? (Grand Rapids Press)

In view of the fact that the OPA is keeping two district offices open in several of the larger states, the decision to close both the Grand Rapids and Saginaw offices and move all Michigan OPA operations to Detroit on Dec. 31 is hard to understand.

Saginaw directed OPA services for 800,000 persons in the eastern side of the state outside the metropolitan area, as well as 200,000 in the upper peninsula whose office at Escanaba was closed early this month. The Grand Rapids district covered 1,200,000 persons. The two outstate districts together therefore accounted for OPA pricing, regulation and control over about as large a population as the Detroit office, which has had a cat-on-a-tin-roof time serving its own extremely busy area.

Granting that a reduction of OPA services and expense is justified everywhere by the reduced rationing needs of the present, the fact is that the war against price breaks is increasingly important; that adjustments in pricing on excess war inventory products and new products are proving a tremendous burden for present district offices; that reconversion will be badly served, and many smaller businesses severely handicapped or ruined if they cannot get prompt price decisions but must await delays at distant and overloaded offices; and that investigative and enforcement efforts may prove to be more rather than less in demand in the next few months.

Grand Rapids as the seat of the federal district court serving both outstate peninsulas could well be retained as a district OPA headquarters for all western and northern Michigan in the period while supply is catching up with demand. It is also the chief transportation and marketing center in the western half of the state. Certainly if the district centering here is to be abolished a very complete field staff should continue to be headquartered here for prompt service in pricing as well as in the enforcement field.

THE BUS DRIVER (Saginaw News)

There is more to his job than meets the casual eye. People are inclined to regard him as merely a steersman, a shifter of gears, a maker of change and an issuer of transfers.

But these are only a few among many functions which devolve upon the bus driver. Other tasks outweigh them in importance and responsibility.

For instance, the bus driver is the "skipper of the scow" in a very real sense. The way he drives may mean the difference between life and death for his passengers, particularly at railroad crossings.

He is expected to enforce law and order, if necessary, among those riding with him—and forget not that quarrels can arise even in a public conveyance.

The bus driver has a time schedule to think about. People depend upon him to be at such an intersection at such a time. If he misses contact complaints result.

He has to keep records, showing departure and arrival times for every trip, fares taken and transfers issued or received. He is supposed to be able to answer almost any question about local geography.

He must be courteous, for he is a "servant" of the public. At the same time, he is a guardian of the bus company's interests. In this capacity he has to be on the lookout for deliberately faked "accidents" on which damage claims might be based.

Oh, he's a capable, versatile sort—or he doesn't last long at his job.

When a man says his wife understands him, it's pretty certain that he has his own way.

Idle curiosity has a bad habit of working overtime.

Voice, pitched unnaturally high and placed in the back of the mouth. This results in a thin nasal tone of "white" quality—i. e., lacking in resonance and carrying power. It is possible that both pitch and placement are deliberately assumed in the belief that it imparts to the voice a Winchellesque quality of excited portent. It doesn't. It is worthy of note that a speaker never hears his own voice as others hear it. The speaker hears his voice from inside his mouth, and feels the vibrations against the reverse side of the eardrums.

This is very deceptive, and often leads to the belief that one's voice is more vibrant and musical than it actually is. Broadcasters should study carefully the recordings of their voices; nothing else in life is quite as humbling.

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington—The easiest way to dispose of your opposition, if you are not too sure of your arguments, is to yell communist. That was what Patrick J. Hurley did when he resigned as American Ambassador to China.

His statement, which seems to have been issued without warning to either the state department or the White House, had an angry, intemperate sound. It adds heat, but certainly no light to the obscure workings of our policy in China.

What makes Hurley's outburst more difficult to understand is the fact that in China he has had his own way almost entirely. Those same foreign service officers about whom he complains so bitterly were sent out of Chungking at his request. He would take no advice from them.

Hurley was sent to China by President Roosevelt, who hoped it would be possible to reconcile the two hostile factions—the Nationalists army under Chiang Kai-Shek, and the Communists. The Communists had resisted the Japanese with less to fight with than even Chiang's beleaguered forces.

—DREW CLOSER TO CHIANG—

While these were Hurley's instructions, he seems to have swung quickly into the Nationalist orbit and increasingly resented the advice of younger men in the embassy who urged him to bargain with Chiang in order to try to bring the two factions together. Stubbornly holding to his own viewpoint, Hurley drew closer to Chiang, who was naturally gratified to find that he was not required to make major concessions to the other side.

Among the younger diplomatic officers in our embassy in Chungking were some who knew China and the Far East from long experience and study. One was John Service, who was sent back to Washington where, subsequently, he was charged with giving out secret documents.

After being subjected to arrest and search under the most humiliating circumstances, Service was later cleared with an official apology from Secretary of State James F. Byrnes, who declared him guiltless. While former Undersecretary Joseph C. Grew was apparently responsible for the stupid blunder, the whole story of this cruel injustice has never been told.

After the formal apology, Service was reinstated with a higher rank and sent to Japan as an adviser to General MacArthur. Obviously, he is one of the diplomats about whom Hurley is complaining.

George Atcheson, also long familiar with China and the Far East, was sent home from Chungking. He, too, is now in Tokyo on MacArthur's staff.

Still another of these diplomats is John Davies Jr., who was transferred from Chungking to Moscow. Davies served for some time as liaison officer to General Joseph Stilwell. Stilwell, who did such a magnificent job of training Chinese troops, was similarly exiled for his outspoken criticism of Chiang's policy.

—VINCENT CHIEF TARGET—

The most conspicuous target of Hurley's blast is John Carter Vincent, a career diplomat with many years' experience in the Orient. Vincent served as counselor of the embassy under Clarence E. Gauss, who preceded Hurley as ambassador to China.

Vincent, a conscientious public servant with an excellent record in the foreign service, was called back to Washington to be head of the China division of the state department. It must have come as a great surprise to him to read in Hurley's statement that career diplomats were setting our China policy. Responsible officials in the department have been concerned because they felt they had been completely sidetracked on China.

The policy was being set by Hurley and the war department, with General Albert C. Wedemeyer, commanding general in the theater, one of the most important figures. These men were convinced, as they have publicly stated, that we should use American arms to help restore China to Chiang Kai-Shek.

There are many things wrong with the state department, as this column has recently stressed. One of them is that too often, in shaping our policy, we ignore the advice of the expert career men who have real knowledge in their specialized fields.

Hurley's explosion has served no good purpose. General Marshall has again proved himself a patriot in accepting this extremely difficult assignment when the luxury of retirement was in his grasp.

The hope is that Marshall will be able to work with the state department toward a reasonable solution of the Chinese puzzle. He is utterly lacking in vanity and vainglory, and that will give him an advantage to begin with.

a marked improvement if the voice were pitched at its proper level and brought forward out of the throat and into the "masque"—a singer's term for the front of the face and head where the true resonance chambers lie. Articulation that is on the lips is almost impossible if the voice is placed improperly in the throat.

Pronunciation, poorer than it ought to be, and not as poor as it once was. Washington is pronounced "Worhin-ton," government is "guvuhmunt," secretary is "secutary," because is "becuzz."

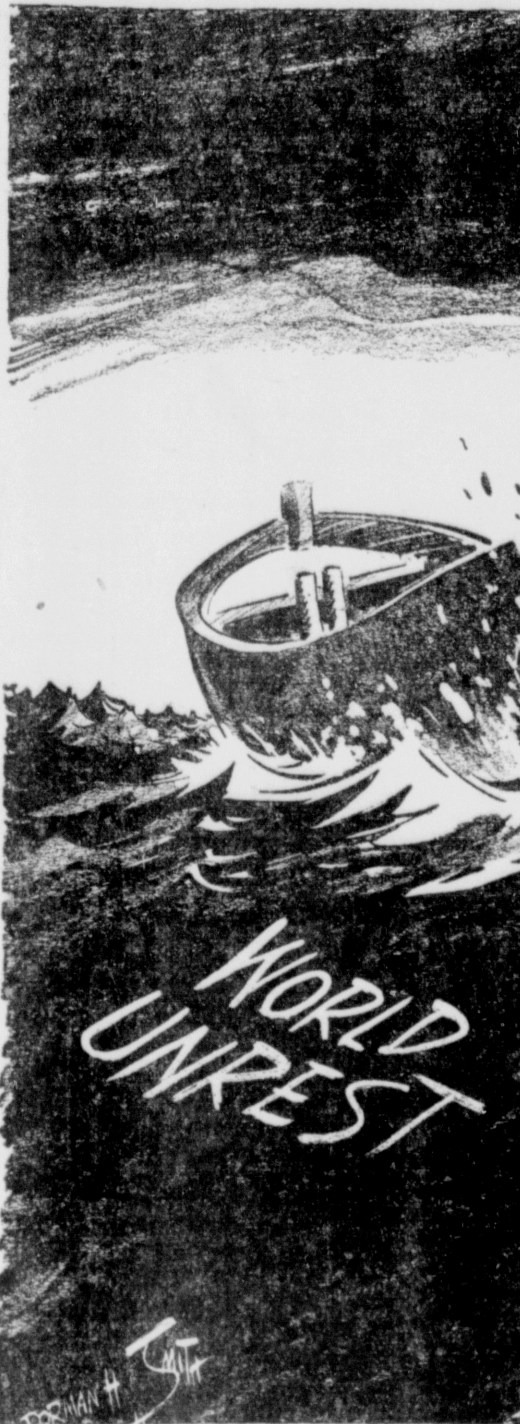

Drew Pearson's chief fault, however, is his apparent inability to pronounce the final -ing. During the broadcast checked for this article, giving was pronounced "giv-eeen," settling was "settle-eeen," being was "bee-eeen," meeting was "mee-teen," and arranging was "arrange-eeen," etc.

The "een" for "-ing" corruption is a relatively recent phenomenon in American speech. I first heard it about fifteen years ago in the East, but I am unable to account for it. Teachers should try to stamp it out among their pupils.

GET - TOGETHER AT CORNELL - Men from the city and the county held a get-together at Cornell township hall Wednesday night, the third annual event of its kind - and certainly not the last judging by its success.

Potato growers of the county sponsor the affair to show they are just as hospitable as anyone else. Judging by the way city business men try to wangle invitations, the farmers should have held the program in a circus tent to accommodate everybody who wanted to go. There is a limit to the space in the Cornell town hall basement where the dinner is served, and for that reason the guest list was kept down to about 150.

Roy Overpack, secretary of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce and comparatively new to the local scene, was looking forward to the Cornell party with enthusiasm. "You know," he said, "the last time I was there they had a Potato Show program. I crowned the Potato Show queen, but Ollie Thatcher kissed her. Perhaps it will be different this time."

BY FIRST NAMES—There were about 20 "queens" at Cornell town hall that night. They were the ladies of the PTA who prepared and served the venison steak dinner, and the goodness of the food will be commented on later.

Upstairs in the hall before the dinner was served, the rural and urban business men of Delta county (farming is a business too, you know) greeted each other by their first names, mingled sociably for a talking good time. It was a pioneering life, with much work and few rewards for a time but today the Schire brothers and their families are proud of the result.

There is still much they want to do, and this will come through continued hard work. Looking at the two young women at the Cornell party that night it was difficult to believe they were pioneers. In fact it would surprise many city folks to find farmers wives can be just as well-groomed and attractively dressed as their city sisters. Impressive, too, are the fresh complexion of the women and girls.

At the Schire Brothers farms another improvement will soon be completed. An electric line is being extended to that area and electric service will light houses and barns, power farm and household equipment.

THE TABLES TURNED—Toastermaster Lundgaard asked service men and war veterans to rise and introduce themselves, said they could speak briefly of their experiences.

John Fawcett, Escanaba business man, who served as a captain in the American Air Force, told of being in Foggia, Italy, where the folks were inordinately proud that their city was the birthplace of former Mayor LaGuardia (Little Flower) of New York City.

"Just as the people of Foggia and New York were proud of their birthplace, so are we, and I knew that I would return again to Cornell and to its Little Flower—Mayor Lundgaard," said Fawcett.

Note: Through long years as a merchant at Cornell and an abounding pride in that community, August Lundgaard has affectionately been given the title of mayor of Cornell.

G. I.—VETERANS SERVICE

Q. If a man reenlists in the Regular Army, will he be sent overseas? If so, can he choose the Theater of Operations to which he wishes to be sent?

A. Men who reenlist in the Regular Army will be assigned to overseas duty at the discretion of the proper military authorities. If a man reenlists for a three-year period he will be sent to the overseas theater of his choice.

Q. Please give the new regulations which entitle members of the Armed Forces to wear the American Theater Ribbon.

A. A joint Army-Navy release, dated October 26, 1945, provides that all members of the Armed Forces of the United States who served honorably on active duty within the continental limits of the United States for an accumulative period of one year during World War II, between December 7, 1941 and a date to be announced later, are eligible to wear the American Theater Ribbon. Previously, the ribbon was awarded only to those serving in certain designated areas in the Western Hemisphere.

OF GENERAL INTEREST

Q. Is there a new draft ruling that fathers of three or more children will not be inducted?

A. Early in November, 1945, Selective Service Headquarters advised local Draft Boards to halt the induction of fathers with three or more children under 18 years of age and also ordered Draft Boards to reject them as volunteers.

Q. What makes a chimney damp?

A. Sometimes it is caused by the condensation of moisture in the flue gases. The combustion of any fuel containing hydrogen generates water, and if the products of combustion from such fuel are cooled below their dew point condensation results. A widely used remedy is the installation of a metal pipe inside the chimney to carry the products of combustion and to prevent their contact with the brick. An enamel pipe is often used for this purpose for durability. Such a pipe will become warm more quickly than the chimney and condensation is therefore less likely to occur.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

Q. Are chuck roasts tender? What part of the steer produces chuck roast?

A. They usually are medium tough. The chuck is the first five ribs from the head of the animal.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington—It has now become fashionable in some quarters to get out the dead cats and sling them in the direction of the White House. Some of the ivory-tower columnists are limbering up their arms. Some of the newspapers, hitherto gentle, have taken off the gloves. In other words, the honeymoon is definitely over—and no one knows it better than Truman himself.

However, the Truman administration marriage has got to last three more years, and there is no use brandishing the rolling pin or waving the skillet unless it gets us somewhere. Instead let's take an unbiased look at the man who didn't want to be president—his mistakes, his qualities, his achievements.

In the first place, you can chalk up two definite accomplishments for Truman: (1) he has appointed a better cabinet than Roosevelt; and (2) he has carried on Roosevelt policies unflinchingly.

The latter, of course, will not be considered much of an achievement by Republicans or many southern Democrats. However, Truman was elected on a Roosevelt ticket, pledged his word to continue the Roosevelt program and has lived up to his word.

—FOUR TRUMAN TROUBLES—

The answer lies in four general reasons:

1. Roosevelt had the gift of going on the radio and swaying the public over the heads of congress. Truman lacks the radio technique, the theatrics, the ability to make that appeal. He is just as sincere as Roosevelt—perhaps more so. He is desperately trying to do a good job. But he can't whip congress into line by mobilizing public opinion. That was the most powerful weapon Roosevelt had.

2. Truman has been seriously wounded by the very group he has consistently sought to help—labor. Unauthorized strikes, such as the Washington, D. C., Transit strike and the nationwide vote walk-out of telephone workers convinced many people that Truman-Roosevelt policies of aiding labor had gone too far. All the strikes have hurt Truman politically, but the wildest strikes especially have ruined Truman's hand when it comes to social legislation and is bound to have its effect on the next election.

—DEWEY WAS RIGHT—

Truman has left himself be dominated by the military when it comes to conscription, the garbled discharged of veterans and the use of ships for bringing men home, politically he has played right into the hands of Governor Dewey who in the campaign of 1944 predicted this would happen.

Truman's whole experience as chairman of his investigating committee showed him how inefficient the army and navy could be when it came to shipping and manpower. Yet as president, he trusted the very same men whom he did not trust as senator. As a result, thousands of soldiers and sailors, plus several million members of their families are bitter. And when any president loses a big block of political support, he undermines his own strength with congress.

—TRUMAN LACKS "BRAIN TRUST"—

4. Finally, Truman has not been able to gather round him sufficient men with governmental "know-how." Running a delicate governmental machine is one of the toughest jobs in the world. There aren't many who can do it. In addition to good cabinet members, it requires skilled assistants in the White House.

FDR had a weak cabinet, but he had around him in the White House a group of expert, energetic trouble-shooters who knew government inside and out and served as a flying football squad to go into this department or that on special jobs. What Truman needs today is a few Tommy Corcorans. Instead he has surrounded himself with a bunch of genial, well-meaning gentlemen, largely from Missouri or Mississippi, who know little about government and spend almost as much time swimming in the White House pool as they do grappling with the vital problems of post-war America.

This is the most obvious weak-spot for Truman to remedy. The others are not easy to repair. In fact the political reactions from the labor situation may be beyond repair.

These are some of the problems Truman faces, plus the general problem that after any war there is a depressing, disillusioning let-down. As qualifications for meeting these problems Truman has sincerity, honesty, energy, courage and a reasonable amount of intelligence. But he is seriously lacking in experience and governmental know-how. Let's hope he picks up more of the latter before the air becomes too full of dead cats. After all, for better or for worse, he's our President until January 1949—and that's quite a long way off.

The healthiest of motorists, unfortunately, often take turns for the worse.

Finding pearls in oysters isn't one bit more difficult than finding oysters in restaurant stew.

The chief objection to hiring an inexperienced stenographer is that words fail her.

You don't have to wait until you're bald to come out on top.

We are told that some day everything in the home will be operated with a push button. We're patiently waiting—button, button, who's got the button?

The automobile situation has finally reached the point where you can trade in your old car—for another old one.

We have a hunch that rabbits, right now, have their own ideas about the war being over.

RECORD KILL OF DEER EXPECTED

Over 10,000 Are Taken Out Of U. P. Before End Of Season

Michigan's 15-day deer season closed yesterday, one of the most successful in hunting history. By Thursday night at the Straits of Mackinac, 9,161 deer had been taken south out of the Upper Peninsula, and the total for the season was expected to exceed the previous record of slightly over 10,000 in 1941, it was reported by the conservation department. It was also pointed out that in 1941 the law permitted the taking of does as well as bucks as camp deer, and the count at the Straits included a number of does. This year the count included only bucks.

Besides the figure on deer at the Straits, it was reported through the conservation department headquarters office in Escanaba that 1,159 permits had been issued for the transportation of deer out of the Upper Peninsula through Wisconsin.

The total number of bucks killed in the U. P. during 14 days of the 15-day season would be well over 10,000.

In addition to the deer taken south at the Straits, there were also 161 bear, 19 coyotes, 15 bob cats, 8 wolves, 25 fox and one lynx, conservation officers reported.

The season started off with rather dismal prospects of success for most hunters. The woods were dry and noisy for a few days, followed by a period of rain and storm. On Thanksgiving Day there was a heavy snowfall ranging from 7 to 9 inches in Delta county, followed by better hunting conditions that included tracking snow.

In Delta county one person was killed and two were injured in deer hunting accidents this season. The 1944 season also resulted in one death in the county.

Miss Moras Joins Veterans' Office

Miss Ruth J. Moras, recently discharged from the U. S. Marine Corps after two years of service, has joined the staff of the Office of Veterans Affairs, Gerald J. Cleary, secretary of the Office of Veterans Affairs, said that Miss Moras was employed by his committee because of her special qualifications.

She will assist Mrs. Betty Wiltz and Mrs. Polly Rich in advisory and consultation work. Due to the large number of returning veterans it is the aim of the veterans office to maintain a sufficient staff in order that every possible assistance may be given to veterans and families of veterans in the matter of insurance, compensation, hospitalization, schooling and apprenticeship training on the job in addition to any other problems that may confront the veterans and their families.

Approximately 1400 veterans have been released from service and it is anticipated that within the next twelve months, there will be 1500 more veterans returning from service, Cleary said. The Office of Veterans Affairs, a state function, is cooperating to the fullest extent with returning veterans and assisting them in every possible way.

COAL CEILING PRICES RAISED

Increase Of Five Cents Per Ton Granted On Bituminous

Lawrence L. Farrell, Saginaw-Escanaba District OPA director announced yesterday morning that he had received word from the national OPA office that retail coal dock operators located along a portion of the Great Lakes shoreline have been granted an increase of five cents a ton in their ceiling prices for bituminous coal.

The increase effective Dec. 1 applies to bituminous coal prepared at dock on the United States bank of Lake Superior and the western bank of Lake Michigan north of and including Waukegan, Ill.

Higher mine ceiling prices that these operators have had to pay for their coal supplies since April 30 of this year necessitated today's action.

Ordinarily retail coal dealers are automatically allowed to increase their ceiling prices when mine prices advance. Retail coal dock operators, however, are excluded from this general provision.

LEGION TO GIVE CHEER BASKETS

Will Aid Families Of Distressed Veterans At Christmastime

William J. Perron, commander of American Legion, Cloverland Post No. 82, has announced that Legion Christmas baskets will be distributed again this year to distressed World War I and World War II veterans and their families.

For the past 15 years the American Legion post has assumed the responsibility of providing Christmas baskets to disabled and distressed veterans and the families of deceased veterans. One of their largest functions is the rendering of assistance to veterans and their families especially during the Christmas season.

Baskets will be distributed throughout Escanaba, Gladstone and the townships on Monday, December 24. Veterans or their families should call W. J. Perron, phone 2690, or the Office of Veterans Affairs, phone 285, and arrangements will be made for their Christmas basket. WATER IS REMOVED
FROM VEGETABLES IN NINETY MINUTES

NEW YORK—Vegetables that are not merely dehydrated but "anhydrous" are the newest thing on the nutritional horizon. They are a development of Clarence Birdseye, pioneer in the quick-frozen foods industry, and are due to be offered on the public market in the near future.

Biggest advantage at the consumer's end is claimed to be the quickness and ease with which "anhydrous" vegetables can be re-constituted—that is, brought back to normal moisture content and made ready for cooking. As a matter of fact, it is really part of the cooking process itself. The dry vegetables are placed in a pot with enough salted water to cover them and brought to a boil as quickly as possible, then cooked over a lowered fire for a few minutes. That is all. Appearance and flavor are claimed to be indistinguishable from those of fresh vegetables.

They do, however, have to be prepared in cut-up form—riced, diced, sliced or what have you.
You can't get a whole boiled an-hydrous potato.

Secret of the new process, Mr.
Birdseye stated, is the speed with which the water is extracted. In place of the 18 hours or so required in the customary drying process, "anhydrous" is accomplished in an average of 90 minutes. Space and weight saving are described as enormous: five truck-loads of vegetables that roll in at the receiving doors of the plant go out of the shipping door as one truckload.

Are Accusations
Fair To Wives
Of Service Men?
By RUTH MILLETT

Shocking figures: There were almost half as many divorce suits as marriages in the first 10 months of 1945 in 30 of the nation's largest cities.

Many of the suits, it is reported were filed by servicemen, charging unfaithfulness.

Isn't there something wrong with that picture? The American public has been forced to accept anything but a pretty picture of the morality of servicemen overseas.

Chaplain Complains
Right now the Navy is trying to answer a chaplain's complaint about the prostitution situation in Japan, in which the chaplain says he saw a line of enlisted men four abreast almost a block long waiting their turn at a house of prostitution.

We have had scores of such ugly pictures during the war—and however shocked we may have been by them, we have had to accept them as part of the total picture of war.

Waiting wives have had to accept such reported conditions, too.
And some of the waiting wives have figured that what men can get by with in wartime women can, too.

But there has been no leniency in anyone's judgment for erring war wives. And the man who comes home to find that his wife has been unfaithful to him—even though he may have been unfaithful himself—thinks it is his right and his duty to cast her off.

Give It A Chance
Isn't it time we took a more adult view of the situation? If it is true that the husband who in ordinary times would have been faithful to his marriage vows might not have remained faithful during years of separation—Isn't it just as likely that the wife who has been faithful in wartime would have had a normal chance?

For the sake of marriage and the children involved, shouldn't this be the realistic attitude of both husbands and wives whose marriages were interrupted by war? "What happened during the war years when living was not normal for either women or men should not be allowed to break up a marriage. The important thing now is to give the marriage a chance and see if it won't work under normal conditions."

Celebrate Anniversary
Mr. and Mrs. August Bohn of 215 South 15th street were honored by friends and relatives the evening of Nov. 25 at Grenier's hall, on the twenty-fifth anniv-versary of their wedding. Following an entertaining evening of card games, the couple was presented with a purse of silver by Henry Ottensman, spokesman for the group.
Sunday at their home the Bohns were hosts to a group of their relatives and friends at a dinner party.
Mr. and Mrs. Bohn were married
Nov. 24, 1920, at Lakota, N. D., and moved to Escanaba soon afterward to make their home. On their silver wedding anniversary with the U. S. Marines at Guam,

Ralph's Party
Ralph Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Johnson, Ford River, celebrated his first birthday anniv-versary at a delightful party at the Johnson home on Sunday,
Nov. 25.
A two-layer birthday cake lighted with a single candle formed the centerpiece at the anniversary luncheon.
Ralph's young guests presented him with a number of attractive gifts and spent the afternoon playing games and singing.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Jensen and and in turn needed the support of laymen more."

CAGE LEAGUEMeeting To Be Held Monday Evening To Launch Move

Organizing of a city basketball league will be the purpose of a meeting to be held at the old gymnasium on Monday evening at 8:30 o'clock.

Players, sponsors and everyone interested in starting something of the sort are asked to attend. Emery Barnes, member of the city's recreation board, will preside at the meeting.

Especially urged to attend are former members of high school and town teams who are willing to enter the fray again.

As soon as teams are formed, a playing schedule will be drafted. Mr. Barnes said.

Youth For Christ
Program To Be Held
Here This Evening

Added interest in the "Youth For Christ" program to be held at the high school auditorium by the Ministerial association of the city is aroused by the fact that several bus loads of young people from other cities in the area will be present at the gathering.

Appearing on the program will be well known speakers and entertainers from Chicago and this vicinity and two veterans of World War II.

The principal speaker at the rally will be Joe Ankerberg, leader of Chicago's famous "Midnight Brigade," who has addressed many gatherings of this sort.

The meeting begins at 7:30 this evening and the public—particularly young people of the city—is invited to attend.

CARD OF THANKS

It is with a feeling of sincere gratitude that we take this means of expressing our deep appreciation and thanks to our friends and neighbors for their kindnesses shown us at the time of the death of our beloved father, John Durno. We are very grateful to those who sent floral offerings, to those who served as pallbearers, to those who offered the use of their cars and to all others who aided us in so many ways. Your kindness will always be held in grateful remembrance.

Signed:
The Durno Family

FAMILY WEEK TO
BE OBSERVEDChurches And Schools
Will Act Upon Kelly
Proclamation

Churches and city schools will participate in activities to help emphasize Home and Family Week in compliance with a recent proclamation by Governor Harry F. Kelly calling for a general observance.

Churches generally throughout the city will touch, either through announcement or through sermons dedicated to the subject, the vital part the home and family life play in the stability and the progress of our country.

Schools throughout the city—both public and parochial—will incorporate usages that will make this very important phase of our national life impressive.

While no special program has been arranged the subject will be incorporated in class activity. In the high school there will be special demonstrations by the home economics class and discussions concerning the subject in history, economics and English classes. In the grades language classes will make the subject of home and family the dominant theme and in the lower grades posters, designed by the pupils, will tell the story.

TRAIN KILLS
MIKE DRAGOSMangled Body Is Found
Back Of Highway
Garage

Mike Dragos, 78, Alger avenue, was killed by an eastbound Soo Line freight train about 3:30 o'clock Friday afternoon. His mangled body was found along the railroad right of way back of the county highway garage, after it had been dragged about a mile.

No one witnessed the accident, but it is believed he attempted to cross the tracks by crawling under the coupling between two cars, and the train started up before he was clear.

Sometime after the train had gone, members of a section crew found his hat and pocketbook at the Houghton street crossing. Blood near the scene indicated some accident had occurred. They reported their find to the depot agent, Ray Bezner, who wired Gulliver to have the train stopped for investigation. Shortly afterward, John Burnice, Orville Brommley and Peter Workman, members of the section crew, set out in search for the body and found it a mile from where the search had begun.

Authorities were notified, and Coroner Ed Jackson, Assistant Chief Elmer Anderson and Trooper A. A. Sholander arrived on the scene, and decided no inquest was necessary.

The body was taken to the Morton funeral home.

SUGGESTIONS ON
GIFTS OFFEREDAmericans In Britain
Tell What Would Be Liked

From the OutPost, a publication put out by Americans in Britain, are taken suggestions for persons planning to send Christmas gifts to friends or relatives in Britain. The information, it is stated, is based on experience of peoples' needs and customs regulations.

Cosmetics, perfume and jewelry are highly dutiable and probably ought not to be sent unless the recipients are known to be willing to pay the duty. It is suggested to make gifts practical. Nine women out of ten need stockings and most want them full-fashioned. Long-wearing, inexpensive grades are welcome as any. Most people need handkerchiefs and would prefer six cheap ones to one expensive lace or fine linen one. Undies, handbags and girdles would be bound to be welcome but again the duty on these items comes high.

Children need warm things: if bedroom slippers can be obtained, they would be invaluable. Clothes for babies should be made of wool. Wash cloths, soap and hair-ribbons would make welcome presents. So would a hot water bottle. Food parcels are still welcome gifts although the need for tea is less than before.

Rev. Geo. Cameron
Is Guest Preacher

The Rev. George Cameron, formerly a captain in the chaplains' service of the United States Army, will deliver the sermon at the Sunday morning service at Memorial Methodist church.

Rev. Cameron, a native of Gladstone, was in the Chaplains' Corps two and one-half years serving in the European and Asiatic theaters. Before entering service he was pastor at Homer, Mich. He is a son of Mrs. Cameron-Smith and a brother of Supt. Wallace Cameron, who he is visiting.

Young people above the seventh grade are invited.

Eskymos Win From St. Joseph's, 39 To 27, In Basketball Opener

LARGE CROWD SEES CONTEST

Escanaba Reserves Score 28 To 14 Win In Preliminary

The high school basketball season got under way here last night at the junior high school with a capacity crowd on hand to see the Escanaba quintet overwhelm a scrappy St. Joseph team by a score of 39 to 27.

In a preliminary contest between the reserve teams of both schools the Eskymos scored a 28 to 14 win.

Though St. Joseph scored first and in the opening minute of play, Strophich cashing in on a shot from rebound, the Eskymos took a commanding lead early in the second quarter and were not too seriously threatened throughout the remainder of the contest.

In spite of occasional fumbles, wild shots and an early season tension that marked the play through most of the game there was plenty of indication that both teams will be tough competitors probably through the rest of the season.

Ohman, Eskymo center, led his teammates in scoring with five old goals. McCarthy was high man for St. Joseph's with a similar number of buckets.

Jim Rouman, Eskymo coach substituted an entire team near the end of the first half and again in the final three minutes of play.

SEVERAL BIG GAMES TODAY

Army-Navy Classic Cops College Football Spotlight

New York, Nov. 30 (AP)—Hidden in the shadow of the Army-Navy classic in Philadelphia tomorrow are a number of top flight football contests across the nation ranging from the ivy-laden meeting of Harvard and Yale at New Haven to Southern California's bid for the western Rose Bowl pairing in a game with U. C. L. A.

When the returns are in, the season will be over for all practical purposes with only the bowl extravaganzas remaining. Even those pairings should be completed.

Alabama, invited and accepted to the Rose Bowl, finishes its regular season work against a Mississippi State eleven that was considered a mild threat to the Crimson Tide's unbeaten season before Old Miss upset the Staters last week.

Southern California needs at least a tie with the Uclans to qualify for the job of trying to stop Harry Gilmer's Alabama passes at Pasadena New Year's afternoon. If UCLA knocks over the Trojans, like it flattened St. Mary's, Washington State will slide into the Pacific Coast conference title and the tournament of roses.

Notre Dame, still a power despite trimmings by both service academies, finishes against Great Lakes in what may be the final game of a rivalry re-born by wartime conditions.

Harvard, about as informal as white tie and tails in smothering Boston university, 60-0, is expected to give favored Yale a run for it in their traditional tilt that closes out the eastern season along with the Army-Navy game.

Georgia meets Georgia Tech in a southern neighborhood scrap, Vanderbilt faces Tennessee, Virginia faces North Carolina, Wake Forest tangles with Clemson, Maryland is at South Carolina and Louisiana State invades Tulane in other southern pairings.

In the southwest, Baylor clashes with Rice and Southern Methodist plays at Texas Christian.

Next in importance to the Southern Cal-UCLA tilt on the west coast are the Oregon-Oregon State and St. Mary's Navy-California meetings.

Ishpeming Takes One Point Thriller From Stambaugh

Ishpeming, Mich., Nov. 30 — Ishpeming high school quirk took a thrilling game here tonight by a one point margin from Stambaugh. The final score was 27 to 26. Coach Watson's cagers had to overcome a three point half-time deficit and at the three-quarter mark were two markers behind. The greatest difference in points throughout the entire game was never more than five. A near capacity crowd attended the fracas.

Quarter score:
Ishpeming 6 10 19 27—27
Stambaugh 6 13 21 26—26
Officials: Schram and Cameron.

Slippery Field May Slow Army; Kickoff Scheduled At 12:30

BY GAYLE TALBOT

Philadelphia, Nov. 30 (AP)—Un-defeated Army and Navy put in their final practice licks on the spongy turf of Municipal Stadium today and fell back to await the kick-off of their climatic football duel at 1:30 (EST) tomorrow.

First the underdog Middies and then the powerful crew from West Point limbered up and took "wind springs" on a stretch of the grass from which the protective covering had been removed, and at the conclusion each coach announced that he would start his strongest eleven in the championship tussle.

There had been extreme doubt that Army's clever quarterback, Arnold Tucker, would be in there to ramrod the Cadets' T-formation, as he had been bedded since Tuesday with a mild flu attack, but he made the trip with the squad and Coach Earl Blaik said he would start the game.

In a surprise move, Blaik announced that Bob Chabot, a fleet 180-pounder from Manchester, N. H., would replace Tom McWilliams at right half in the starting backfield.

Coach Oscar Hagberg of Navy reported similar recovery of his several invalids who had brought alarm to Annapolis during the week. Best news for the future admirals was that their 205-pound guard, Jim Carrington, had recovered from the sniffles.

The field promised to be somewhat less than dry by game time, possibly slippery enough to affect Army's tremendous running attack and to influence the score.

The Cadets still were favored by the bookmakers to win at least 27 points and run their victory string to 18. Cloudy, chilly weather was forecast for the tussle, with the temperature ranging around 40-43 at the kick-off.

Attending strictly to logic, there still was no method by which Navy could be given even an outside chance of winning the game.

The best the Tars could hope to do, according to the col figures, would be to hold the Mules to a respectable margin of victory, say, under 40 points.

As usual, Army almost certainly will kick off, even if it wins the toss. It is Coach Blaik's great pleasure to have Blanchard get off one of his tremendous, soaring boots into the end zone, and then let the jittery opposition see what it can do offensively. Mostly, the opposition either fumbles or gets off a short, hurried punt, and Army goes into action—boom—at mid field.

In the matter of weight the two starting elevens are so evenly matched that it smacks of collusion.

The closest thing to an overnight sensation was the assertion by Hagberg that Blanchard was "not so hot" as a defensive player. This came as something of a shock to those several hundred thousand observers who have watched the Army fullback strew enemy ball carriers around the turf the past two seasons.

Probable lineups:
Navy Pos. (195) Pitzer
Duden (202) LE (195) Pitzer

Without having the fire fighters right there to see that the burning is controlled and that the fire doesn't burn over any areas but those designated. But the fire fighters must not be allowed to set aside the areas for burning.

The areas should be set aside by the game management only after a study of the soil, the humus and the duff of each area to be burned. The game management division must not burn when nests or game will be destroyed.

The game division must listen to the fire fighting division so that their advice as to wind, humidity and all the ramifications of fire and fire fighting will be properly handled. The game wardens must be there to observe and cooperate.

The sportsmen must be notified of the date of burning and must turn out in numbers to help, but more particularly to learn how hazardous this work can be without planning and efficient handling.

Then this area should be watched for results the next year and the years after. The general public should then be advised and frankly told of the findings. Only then can we have a careful, cautious, well worked out plan which will have the support of all and justify controlled burning.

No burning must be allowed

DO CHRISTMAS MAILING EARLY

Cards, Packages Should Go Out Now, Warns Postal Official

Mail those Christmas greeting cards and packages now and mark them "Do Not Open Until Christmas" if you want to avoid delays and the possibility they may not reach their destination in time. Postmaster Regina Cleary said yesterday.

So far there has been little Christmas mailing at the Escanaba postoffice, and unless early mailing warnings are observed it may mean a rush a few days before Christmas. Also this year the holiday falls on Tuesday, an important factor in handling excessive quantities of mail over the preceding weekend.

Postmaster Cleary has been advised by the postmaster general that:

"The public should be informed that the necessity for early mailing of Christmas cards, gifts and gift parcels is most imperative due to the shortage of trained employees throughout the postal service."

"Mailings for distant states should be deposited well in advance of Dec. 10, and Christmas greeting cards for local delivery should be mailed not later than Dec. 15, to assure delivery before Christmas Day."

Starting Saturday, Dec. 8, and continuing on Dec. 15 and 22, the two following Saturdays before Christmas, all postoffice service windows will be open all day, it was announced.

Starting Dec. 10 the stamp window will be open until 7 p. m. instead of closing at 6 p. m., and will remain open later than 7 o'clock if the volume of business makes that necessary.

It is already too late for overseas mailing intended to arrive at Christmas time. This year, for the first time since the war started, Christmas mail was received at Escanaba addressed to Norway, Sweden and other European countries.

Cars Must Be Off Streets 2 to 7 a. m. To Permit Plowing

Police Chief Mike Ettenhofer reminds car owners that beginning tonight the city ordinance prohibiting the parking of automobiles on the streets from 2 to 7 a. m. is in effect and asks the co-operation of drivers in observing the regulation.

The ordinance was passed some years ago in order to permit city crews to plow the streets during the night without interference from parked cars.

The restriction on parking will be in effect during the next four months.

Okinawa Curtain Is Lifted By 96th

By NEA Service

April Fool's Day, 1945, was no joke to the men of the 96th (Deadeye) Infantry Division. On that day, two of its regiments swarmed ashore on Okinawa to raise the curtain on three months of the worst fighting of the Pacific War.

The 96th had entered combat Oct. 20, 1944, landing on Leyte in the first hours of General MacArthur's invasion of the Philippines.

In two months of fighting on Leyte, the Deadeye Division had notched 7000 Japs on its collective rifle.

When the division hit the beaches at Okinawa along with the 7th Infantry Division, it immediately distinguished itself when one of its sergeants, racing inland 600 yards, planted the first American flag on the soil of the Ryukyus.

After weeks of deadly fighting, the 96th doughs swarmed over Tombstone Ridge and, in mid-May, hit the fanatically defended Conical Hill, overlooking vital Yonabaru airfield. When the Deadeye took Conical Hill, the Japs had lost their last good observation post on the island. Then the division proceeded to gobble up the airfield.

A month later, the Deadeye doughs cracked the center of the Jap southern defense line by taking Yaeju Hill, and pushed on to the south.

The 7000 Japs the division had accounted for on Leyte seemed insignificant when the Deadeyes totaled up their score for Okinawa. The Nip dead totaled more than 20,000.

'Acting President' Quashed By Tyler

Kent, O. (AP)—President Truman might be addressed as "acting president" today if it weren't for a stubborn trait in President John Tyler more than a hundred years ago, says Prof. Mona Fletcher of the political science department at Kent State university.

"When William Henry Harrison died and Tyler became President, Congress sent him a letter addressing him as the acting president," she said. "Tyler returned the letter unanswered, claiming he was the President and would be called so. Congress complied with his wish and the practice was established."

MAJOR LEONARD WARD

Major Leonard Ward, who recently returned from three and a half years of service in Europe with the U. S. Army Engineers, will be employed here again by the City of Escanaba, City Manager A. V. Aronson announced yesterday.

A graduate electrical engineer of the Michigan College of Mines and Technology, Houghton, Major Ward will be engaged in general engineering work for the city and will take over the engineering work at the city steam plant.

Major Ward was an officer in the original Michigan National Guard unit here and left the employ of the city when the unit moved to Louisiana for training before the war.

Although now on terminal leave here until February when he will be discharged Major Ward will begin his duties with the city at once.

He is the son of Rev. and Mrs. James G. Ward, 515 Third Avenue South.

SHIPPING YULE TREES BY RAIL

Loading Now Under Way North Of Escanaba On Spur Tracks

For the first time since 1942 the shipment of Christmas trees by rail is again permitted, and many cars are being loaded on tracks north of Escanaba at the present time, it was reported yesterday by T. M. Cassidy, Upper Peninsula Division superintendent for the C. & N. W. Railroad.

During the last two holiday seasons, the use of flat cars and gondolas was reserved to meet military loading requirements, according to the Association of American Railroads. Box cars which were used to carry the trees during the past two years are now in short supply and tree shippers have been requested to use gondolas and flat cars as far as possible.

Cassidy said the cars now being loaded are expected to go out within the next ten days.

E. A. Wenner, county agricultural agent, said that so far only about 50 permit forms for cutting and transporting Christmas trees have been issued by his office. The permits are expected to be issued in larger numbers in the next couple weeks as the holiday season nears.

Last year prices paid on evergreens ranged as high as 60 cents per tree on the stump for trees up to six feet high. Usual price is 15 to 20 cents on the stump in previous years, the county agent reported.

Demand for trees has increased during the war years, but prices this year are not expected to be as high as last season.

Thousands of trees are being taken out by truck as well as rail. Some truckloads of trees have already moved south, but the volume is expected to increase until a couple weeks before Christmas.

Whooping cranes, looming large in the clear air of the prairies, sometimes have been mistaken for horses or antelopes.

Accepted for limited duty were Carl J. Stone, Clifton J. Boursaw and Franklin B. Schense.

Four men were rejected.

GOOD YEAR DeLuxe

TEXAS, CALIFORNIA, MISSOURI, ILLINOIS, OHIO, NEW YORK

No guesswork about it. Tests run over hundreds of thousands of miles show Goodyear tires give longer tread wear. Taxi operators consistently report service of 25 to 35 thousand miles or more; farmers, doctors, motorists from coast to coast, praise them for outstanding performance. That's why Goodyear has stamped them DeLuxe . . . why it's so smart to go DeLuxe with Goodyear.
